DOWNTOWN'S SMART, NEW ADDRESS

As the leading owner of Class-A office properties, Brandywine Realty Trust continues to expand its footprint in Austin—arriving downtown with a striking addition to the City's skyline, known currently as 405 Colorado.

Spanning two decades of smart, sustained growth, Brandywine has set precedents for creativity in real estate—anticipating the future and delivering first-class solutions. We've evolved from a start-up office landlord to one of America's most prolific multi-market property owners, inclusive of over $2 billion in successful development. This new landmark project at 405 Colorado in the Texas state capital will be designed to surpass standards for innovative workplaces and exceed expectations for the modern, urban, lifestyle experience, 405 Colorado embody the spirit of Austin's dynamic culture and vibrant citizenry.

A NEW AUSTIN ICON

405 Colorado presents a dynamic image from every direction, yet its soul is in the two levels of outdoor spaces—the street level entry and the open Sky Lobby of the office tower where the design opens itself to Austin's new, exciting and active urban lifestyle.

405 Colorado brings a high level of architectural and urban design to meet the City of Austin Great Streets Development Program. 405 Colorado is the first project under the Great Streets Program to be developed along Fourth Street, setting the precedent for the street's future development.
