OUR STORY

The historic Colvin House, a Chicago landmark, is home to Creative Coworking's second location. Creative Coworking is a woman-owned workspace, meeting place and private event venue. Built in 1909, Colvin House is a unique and inspiring place to work, impress a client, host a board meeting, and much more. With networking opportunities and a community feel.

Creative Coworking offers flexible memberships whether you work here every day or are just stopping in for a few hours. The Creative Coworking offices offer a variety of workspaces from private offices to phone rooms and open workspaces to accommodate whatever professional environment best suits your work style and your business needs.
