TEMESCAL

Telegraph Ave is the vibrant heart of Oakland's historic Temescal neighborhood. Known for its eclectic vibe, craft stores and great food, Temescal serves up a new surprise on every block—places to eat, shop, grab a coffee or raise a glass. You'll find craft breweries, handmade jewelry, art classes, and galleries, along these walkable, tree-lined streets. There's an unmistakable energy here, an entrepreneurial spirit that's both engaging and inspiring.

“

Like downtown Oakland, the Temescal District, on Telegraph Avenue, came alive because of its eclectic restaurant scene, such as the immensely popular Bakesale Betty's and a collection of diverse eateries such as Asmara Restaurant, Burma East, Cafe Eritrea D'Afrique and Homeroom Mac & Cheese. With that came businesses that reflect Oakland's diverse and artistic culture.
