

Site Overview

Apex, NC has an above average demographic profile versus national averages. There is a population of 65,802 persons within a 3-mile radius of the site with a median household income of $101,745, far above the national median household income of $59,039. Education levels in a 3-mile radius are also incredibly high with 63.29% of the population possessing a Bachelor’s Degree or higher level of education. Apex was also named the No. 1 Best Place to Live by Money Magazine in 2015 for the following reasons:

- A charming downtown
- Top-notch schools
- High paying tech-industry jobs that help make quality of life second to none

Due to these attractive qualities, the Town of Apex has seen its population double since 2000. As noted above, Apex also has some of the best public schools in North Carolina, with Apex High School even offering a four-year program that exposes students to the IT field through coursework and internships. Another 3,000 housing units are slated to be completed in the submarket by the year 2020, adding a approximately 12,000 new residents to the area.
