MOORESVILLE

Mooresville is a town in southern Iredell County, North Carolina located approximately 25 miles north of Charlotte. The town covers roughly 20 square miles and sits along Lake Norman. Mooresville has a 2016 population of 38,334 with a median household income of $58,898, both of which are projected to increase over the next five years. Mooresville has experienced unprecedented growth and change in the last 20 years. The rate of population growth began to increase in the 1980s and accelerated dramatically in the 1990s. At the same time, the town changed from a self-contained industrial community to a rapidly urbanizing, multifaceted society. Today, Mooresville is a mix of small town, suburban and urban development and is the hub of a growing regional economy. There are approximately 26,000 employees in the Mooresville region. This is projected to increase to 40,000 by 2025.

Mooresville's proximity to Lake Norman, and its well-maintained network of open space, makes it a highly desirable place to live, work and play. Created by Duke Power in 1963, Lake Norman is the largest man made body of fresh water in North Carolina with 525 miles of shoreline – more than the coastlines of North and South Carolina combined – and a surface area of more than 32,475 acres. Mooresville also offers abundant recreational opportunities, with 15 parks, 15 tennis courts, 15 basketball courts, 19 lighted ball fields and three gyms.

Mooresville's schools are nationally recognized for their quality education. The Town of Mooresville is served by two public school systems, plus numerous private and charter schools. The Mooresville Graded School District (MGSD) and Iredell-Statesville Schools (ISS) represent a total of 40 schools and an enrollment of approximately 20,000 students. Universal Technical Institute operates NASCAR Technical Institute under licensing agreements. The school offers racing-related instruction to prepare the student for their job search in the racing industry.

The Town's close proximity to Charlotte, reliable infrastructure that is in place through roads, rail, fiber optics, water/sewer and air make it an ideal business location for manufacturers, headquarters, back-office and users alike. Also known as "Race City USA", Mooresville is the home of many NASCAR teams and over 60 racing—related businesses. Numerous corporations have their headquarters in Mooresville/Southern Iredell County, including: Lowe's Companies, Inc., BestCo, Carolina Beverage Group, Custom Products, Inc. and General Microcircuits, Inc.

MARKET OVERVIEW

IREDELL COUNTY

Iredell County covers nearly 600 square miles in the west, central portion of North Carolina. Its county seat is the city of Statesville, and its largest town is Mooresville. Iredell County is one of the longest counties in North Carolina and stretches for nearly fifty miles north to south from Yadkin County in the north to Mecklenburg in the south. The county boasts a 2016 population estimate of 172,402 and a median household income of $52,257, both of which increased since 2010 and are projected to continue to increase over the next five years. Iredell County is part of the Charlotte-Concord-Gastonia NC-SC Metropolitan Statistical Area.

Farming is a major source of income in Iredell County. Dairy farming has been particularly popular in Iredell County for centuries, in both the northern and southern sections of the county. However, the rapid population growth and development in southern Iredell County is putting increasing pressure on farmlands, and many farms in this section are giving way to shopping centers, housing developments, and large corporate office parks. Although northern Iredell County has retained much of its rural character, the southern half of the county is experiencing rapid suburbanization and population growth, largely due to the immense popularity of the Lake Norman area for residents of nearby Charlotte, North Carolina's largest city.

Ingersoll Rand has its North America headquarters in the Iredell County city of Davidson, while Lowe's has its corporate headquarters in Mooresville. Iredell County is a major hub of NASCAR racing, with many race shops located in the county (mostly around Mooresville). Many NASCAR drivers live around Mooresville and Lake Norman.

Iredell County is an important transportation center for the state, as Interstate 77 and Interstate 40 cross in northeast Statesville. This gave rise to the county's slogan "Crossroads for the Future". Residents have easy access going south on I-77 to Charlotte; north on I-77 to Elkin, North Carolina and Roanoke, Virginia; east on I-40 to Winston-Salem, Greensboro and Raleigh; and west along I-40 to Hickory, North Carolina and Asheville. Other highly trafficked thoroughfares in Iredell County include US 21, US 64, and US 70. Iredell County is served by two railroads, Alexander Railroad and Norfolk Southern Railway.

The county is served by the two traditional public school districts that serve Mooresville, Iredell-Statesville Schools and Mooresville Graded School District. Also serving the county are several public charter schools including Pine Lake Preparatory, Langtree Charter Academy, American Renaissance School (ARS) and others.
