535.5 Lot and Bulk Requirements

- 1) Minimum yards or setbacks:
 - (a) Front - none.
 - (b) Side yards - if the side of a lot in the CBD-2 district abuts upon the side of a lot in an R district, there shall be a side yard of not less than the side yard required in the abutting R District. In all other cases a side yard for a commercial building shall not be required, but if provided, shall not be less than six feet in width.
 - (c) Rear yard – if the rear of a lot in the CBD-2 district abuts upon the R district, there shall be a rear yard of not less than 15 percent of the depth of the lot, but such a rear yard need not exceed 20 feet. In all other cases a rear yard is not required, except if one is provided it shall not be less than eight in depth. In the case of a corner lot abutting a non-residential district on both streets, both interior property lines shall be considered to be side lot lines. (Note: this avoids the need for a rear yard on a corner lot in a CBD-2 district, which would disrupt the continuity of frontage.)
- CBD-2
- 2) Maximum height - The prevailing height of the adjoining street block, as it may be determined by the Planning and Zoning Commission, shall not be exceeded by more than one-story or eighteen-feet (18'), whichever is greater. The Commission may waive this requirement for buildings that the Commission determines to be of unusual design excellence. In making this determination the Commission may seek the advise of a professional architect licensed to practice in the State of Connecticut (the fee for whose services may be charged to the applicant as provided for by City Ordinance), This determination shall also address compliance with the following criteria:

- (a) The massing, roof design, and remainder of the design of the exterior of the building shall adequately incorporate and address and Design Review Guidelines for the CBD districts or any similar document that may be adopted by the Commission.
 - (b) The exterior of the building shall reflect the use of material of an enduring quality.
 - (c) The creation of parking under, within, or on top of the building, or the Commission finds that the parking requirements are substantially exceeded in another acceptable manner.
 - (d) The facades of the street level floors fronting City owned roads shall be reserved for use by non-office commercial uses.
- 3) Maximum Front Yard Setback - New buildings shall have a maximum five-foot setback from the front property line or a zero set back from the prevailing building line as this may be determined by the Planning and Zoning Commission.
- 4) Lot Frontage Coverage - New buildings shall be designed to cover at least 60 percent of the lot frontage, however, in the case where the prevailing lot frontage coverage (as determined by the Planning and Zoning Commission) is more than 60% that degree of coverage shall be required. If the prevailing lot frontage coverage is less than 60%, then the Commission may, if it determines that the purpose of this zoning district is furthered, allow the lot frontage coverage to be as low as the prevailing lot frontage coverage.

535.6 Off-Street Parking and Loading

Off-street parking and loading spaces shall be provided for each lot within the district in accordance with the provisions of Article VI, Section 614 of these regulations.

535.7 Facade Review

Any new facade or change in the facade of an existing building shall be reviewed by the Commission for evaluation of architecture and design. The Commission shall refer a copy of any facade plan to the Design Review Board of the Historic District Commission, and the Planning and Zoning Commission shall give due consideration to any report filed with it by said Committee prior to rendering a decision on the facade plan. If no report is received from said

Committee within thirty-five (35) days of the referral, it shall be presumed that the Committee has no objection to the facade plan. (Amended 02/10/86)

535.8 Permanent Facade Extensions

Facade extensions on ground or upper floors are permitted subject to issuance of a special permit by the Planning and Zoning Commission. Extending certain building fronts into the right-of-way is desirable from a design viewpoint as it enhances the pedestrian environment by injecting interest and animation to the streetscape. From a private viewpoint, it increases square footage of stores in a manner, which maximizes exposure of their products. Because many buildings along major thoroughfares are of historic or architectural significance, extension of facades may not be appropriate. However, many opportunities do exist in which facade extensions would be desirable.

The extensions could exist in a variety of physical forms but must adhere to the following general criteria:

- 1) Granting of a right of encroachment by the City Council.
- 2) Detailed review of the design treatment of the building and its impact on the block face is required.
- 3) The extensions must be at least 75 percent transparent.
- 4) Displays must be pedestrian focused.
- 5) The entire facade is renovated as part of any extension.
- 6) No more than 35 percent of a block face is available for extensions.
- 7) All extensions are illuminated during evening hours until midnight.
- 8) No extensions are permitted on certified historic buildings unless concurrence of the State Historic Preservation Officer is obtained.
- 9) Access to underground utilities must be considered in the design.

Several types of extensions are possible and are enumerated below to serve as guidelines for property owners, the Planning and Zoning Commission and Zoning Official:

- 1) Display Windows: Ground floor extensions into the right-of-way for purposes of display of goods. Extensions limited to 1 1/2 to 2 feet and taking the form of a bay window or similar projection. Should be primarily transparent except for window mullions and support and be illuminated. Goods displayed should be presented in a highly attractive manner to add color and interest to the street scene. Could also be developed at second floor level.

CBD-2

- 2) Display Kiosks: Free standing structure adjacent to store and displaying goods contained in store. The requirements for transparency, illumination and retail presentation outlined for the display windows are applicable here.
- 3) Ground Level Storefront Extension: Extensions should be developed at grade with materials at least 75 percent transparent excluding the roof element. Pedestrian's view of the activities within is to be maximized and visual competition between the new extension and the original building should be minimized.
- 4) Upper Level Extension: This form of extension is not appropriate for certified historic buildings. The extension must be carefully scaled to the facade of the building from which it originates. The extension could be cantilevered from its host building or supported by columns and terminated below any cornice work or, if none exists, that of adjacent buildings. Again, maximum transparency on all side surfaces to permit views out and in is a key objective. Evening lighting is important to producing interest to the street scene. This type of extension is feasible for streets where the narrow sidewalk width does not permit ground level extensions.

535.9 Approval of Buildings with Mixed Residential and Commercial Uses

Buildings with mixed residential and commercial uses are allowed upon the issuance of a Special Permit subject to the following requirements:

- (a) Separate entrances and exits shall be provided for residential and non-residential portions of the building.

535.10 Approval of New Construction

Any construction of new principal buildings or any of the following changes which comprise more than 10% of the gross floor area of the existing principal building: new accessory buildings, additions to accessory buildings, major additions to existing buildings are allowed only by Special Permit. Additions to buildings made after the effective date of this regulation change shall be considered on a cumulative basis towards the 10% threshold requiring a Special Permit under this regulation.
